TERRENCE J. MADDEN

Terry heads up the firm's insurance coverage, medical malpractice and professional liability practice areas. He regularly provides the firm's insurance clients with coverage opinions on a variety of coverage issues, and has litigated coverage issues at the trial court and appellate court levels.

ROBERT C. BRAMLETTE

Bob heads up the firm's real estate and corporate practice. As Asst. General Counsel Real Estate for Sears, he was involved in the Sears Tower mortgage restructuring, sale of Homart's regional mall portfolio, redevelopment of the Hoffman Estates business park, and sale and leasing transactions. After leaving Sears, Bob was chief legal officer at Leapnet, Inc., a NASDAQ company. He was responsible for legal and business issues, including purchase and sale of companies, financing, consulting and employment contracts.

EMILY K. MUCEUS

Emily has experience litigating construction defects, mechanics liens, bond claims, delay claims, change order disputes and fraud in state and federal court and before arbitrators. She also performs transactional work including drafting and negotiating construction contracts, commercial leases, condominium declarations and residential and commercial land purchase agreements.

SPEAKERS

EDWARD L. HART

Ed's involvement with construction bonding and insurance began in 1969. He started his career as a surety underwriter and advanced to a position as a regional manager. After 15 years in underwriting, he moved to the brokerage ranks specializing in the construction industry. He has been involved with many of Chicago's largest contractors and major projects in the public and private sectors. His expertise covers Surety, Insurance and Controlled Insurance Programs, Railroad Protective Insurance and Builders Risk coverage.

GEOFFREY A. BRYCE

Geoff Bryce is a founding partner of Bryce Downey & Lenkov. He represents clients in a variety of construction related transactions and disputes. He has published a number of articles. Geoff has spoken at National Safety Council programs, National Business Institute, Lorman Education Services and HalfMoon, seminars. He is a member of the Society of Illinois Construction Attorneys.

JEANNE HOFFMANN

Jeanne heads up the commercial litigation and intellectual property practices for the firm. She handles all facets of business and intellectual property litigation as well as transactions. Her litigation experience includes diverse matters in both the state and federal courts. In the trademark, copyright, trade dress and trade secret areas she has litigated cases involving greenhouse/growers, controlled circulation publications, original artistic works and compilations, software, and products for automotive testing. In the commercial litigation area, she has litigated cases involving UCC sales contracts, franchise agreements, distributorship agreements, business and contract interference torts and insurance coverage. Her transactional work includes negotiating and drafting licenses, sales and marketing agreements, and agreements for the purchase and sale of businesses and assets.

JOHN T. WAGENER

John concentrates his practice in the litigation area and has substantial experience handling a wide range of litigated matters, including those relating to products liability, personal injury, premises liability and other tort law matters, insurance and insurance coverage, and commercial/contract law issues. He also provides counseling to business clients, with additional expertise in case management and regulatory compliance.
